

One day a very important messenger arrived at the house to bring a special invitation to the prince's birthday party. All the young ladies in the country were invited because the prince was going to choose his bride at the ball. Cinderella was very sad because she did not get an invitation.

The ugly step sisters and the step mother did and they were very excited about choosing what they were going to wear. "You can't come because you are just a servant", they said to Cinderella.

When the great day arrived and they were all finally ready they left poor Cinderella crying by the fireside. "What is the matter my dear?" said a kind voice.

Cinderella turned around.

"I am your fairy godmother and I have come to help you" she said.
